Finding Opportunities for Growth

“Economic development is about providing opportunities. When I go to work each day, I feel extremely fortunate I have the opportunity to contribute to growth. Growth in a region, growth in a community, and ultimately growth in the lives of families throughout the Valley.”

Stephanie is a community development consultant for TVA Economic Development in the seven-state TVA region. In this capacity she works with local power companies, community leaders and other economic development partners to foster job creation and retention and community preparedness in the Valley. Her responsibilities include helping communities take advantage of economic growth opportunities through leadership development, team building, strategic planning and site-visit preparation.

Prior to her current role, Hamby worked as management assistant for global business with TVA Economic Development, assisting and supporting the general management and field staff team in this area.

Before joining TVA, Hamby worked for United States Senator Bob Corker as a constituent services representative. Serving in this capacity, she assisted in addressing and resolving constituent concerns with federal and state agencies, as well as private organizations.

Hamby received a bachelor of science degree in business administration from the University of Tennessee in Knoxville, majoring in finance with international business collateral and minoring in English. She resides in Nashville, Tennessee, with her husband.
