Hometown Development Specialist

Economic development hits home for Hicks. “Working in the communities that I have grown up in to make them better is one of the most rewarding careers anyone can ask for.”

Warren Hicks is a regional development specialist with TVA’s Economic Development Office in Huntsville, Alabama. In that capacity he works with distributor customers of TVA power, community economic development leaders, and state and regional economic development partners to foster and sustain job growth and investments. His responsibilities include assisting prospective or existing industries, facilitating financial and technical services, and helping communities support and grow local businesses.

Before joining TVA in 2003, Hicks served as vice president of the Morgan County Economic Development Association in Decatur, Alabama. He is an active member of the Economic Development Association of Alabama and the Southeastern Economic Development Council.

Hicks is a graduate of the University of North Alabama, with a degree in marketing. He is also a graduate of the Oklahoma Institute of Economic Development as well as Leadership Morgan County and a graduate of the Alabama Leadership Initiative.

He and his wife Jamie have two children and live in Decatur.
